DYNAMIC IS THE WORD FOR DR. VERNON L. WHARTON! A MIND THAT WON'T STOP, A STIMULATING LECTURER, A THOROUGH TEACHER AND SCHOLAR—THESE ARE SOME OF THE QUALITIES THAT MAKE HIM ONE OF THE BEST-LIKED PROFESSORS ON THE CAMPUS.

DR. WHARTON IS SINCERE AND INTELLIGENT, PROGRESSIVE, AND ENDOWED WITH A DEFINITE INTEREST IN HIS FELLOW MAN. MILLSAPS REGAINED ONE OF ITS MOST VALUABLE ALUMNI WHEN DR. WHARTON RETURNED FROM THE UNITED STATES NAVY, IN WHICH HE SERVED AS A LIEUTENANT-COMMANDER IN THE INTELLIGENCE DEPARTMENT.

IN RECOGNITION OF WHAT HE IS AND WHAT HE HAS DONE, WE DEDICATE TO DR. WHARTON THE 1946 BOBASHELA.

DR. V. L. WHARTON

BACK AMONG the SAME

WHITWORTH HALL: This beautiful structure is worthy of housing all its attractive belles, who love it all the more because it once beheld the amazing routine of the V-12 unit.

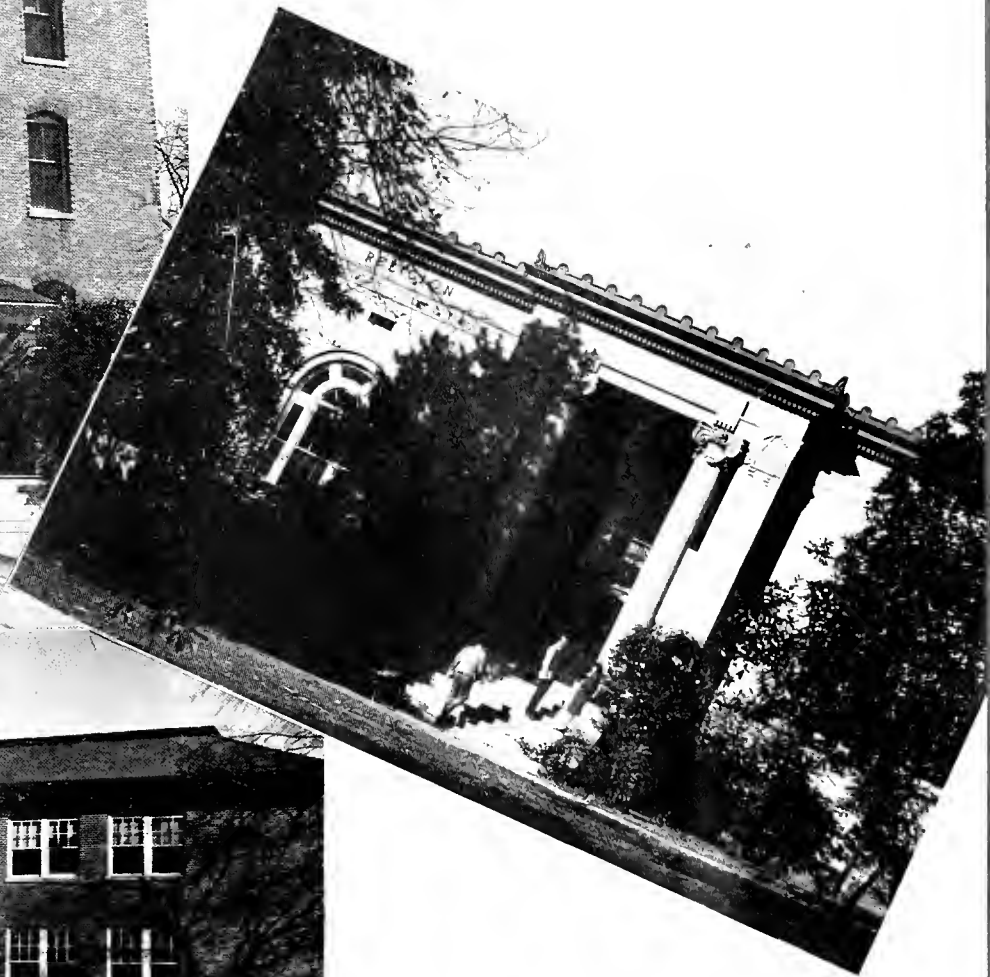

BUIE GYMNASIUM: This is the training site for strong, healthy bodies; also, the first floor contains the incomparable Grill—Bookstore, the Lambda Chi Alpha Room, the Veterans' Lounge, and the Post Office.

FOUNDERS' HALL:
Oldest building on the campus, now houses
most of our Fresh Coeds.

THE CARNEGIE-MILLSAPS LIBRARY:
Built in 1926, this beloved place is steeped in traditions of many student trysts as well as its reputation for containing well-chosen books.

SULLIVAN-HARRELL SCIENCE HALL:
Its labs emit smoky fumes and its halls resound alternately with mothematical echoes and campus chatter.

DR. M. L. SMITH

Under the patient guidance of Dr. Smith, Millsaps has enjoyed a new era. Through his efforts the Christian Center Memorial materialized. His chapel speeches are inspiring; his smile indispensable; his wisdom invaluable. Millsaps is personalized in him. He is never too busy to give advice, to listen to the woes of students or do the countless number of things that make Millsaps College. It is with pride that we refer to Dr. Smith as "Our President."

Our D E A N S

DEAN RIECKEN

One of the first people a student meets when he enters Millsaps is "Dean Bill." Genial, frank, and scrupulously fair, he has the respect, admiration and complete confidence of every student. His qualities of character and leadership would be exceptional anywhere.

DR. HAMILTON

A more apt person than Dr. Hamilton could not have been chosen to start students on the road of their college experiences. But to us he is more than the Dean of Freshmen. He is our teacher and friend. His agreeable personality and his versatility have made him a favorite. He is never too busy to do a favor, give counsel, or stop for a friendly chat.

MRS. STONE

Any co-ed on the campus will tell you how truly fortunate we are to have Mrs. Stone as our Dean. Her gentle philosophy, her complete understanding, and her just advice have endeared her to the hearts of all. She is an inspiration to every girl who attends Millsaps College.

Though the majority of Millsaps returned veterans have registered as Freshmen, all four classes have been busily readjusting curriculum, schedules and officers to meet the situation. With more students registered in more subjects, postwar Millsaps is off to a good start. The change from the hurried three semesters a year to the measured steps of two sixteen-week terms is slowing the tempo of student life and we think it to be for the best. Yes, the 1945-46 school year is an important step in The Greater Millsaps Movement as a foundation for further building.

Since most of our veteran-students are in the ranks of the struggling Freshmen, we have, because of them, revised the customary arrangement of our Bobashela to begin with the Freshman class and end with the Senior class.

MAJOR MILLSAPS CONTRIBUTED OVER $500,000.00 TO THE COLLEGE

This class is not a class—but a group of volunteers who work only when they desire to work and attend class only when they desire—yet attendance was nearly 100 per cent and their drawings are of superb quality.

Millsaps has always held to the policy that students need other interests than class work and study. So, for almost as long as the college has been here, there has been a growing list of extra curricular activities. These groups help to foster school spirit, carry the name of Millsaps far and near, and give expression to the talent here on the campus. It is to the advantage of any student who is outstanding in any of the various fields to become connected with an organization that has the same interests and goals that he has developed for himself.

The very essence of Millaps is found embodied in this group of selected students who rule the campus with an iron hand. They draw up the social calendar, have student body elections, and deal with the student's every problem. They even try to get dancing approved on the campus with rallies.

"Y" has become an institution without which Millsaps couldn't get along. Their achievements have been many and varied—the gay Christmas party for orphans, the faod kept in the dormitories, the lectures on marriage and the family. Indeed, they have an enviable record of program and achievement.

We are proud of our Young Men's Christian Association because it has "started from scratch," has had many obstacles to overcome, and yet has become a live-wire organization. Joint meetings of Y. M.' with Y. W.' have been highlights of campus life. Combined cabinet meetings of the two groups have led to better Vesper programs and long-needed action for campus reforms.

The BOBASHELA

Classifying students as they entered at many and various times of the year, getting snapshots when film and flash bulbs were an unheard-of luxury . . . these were but a few of the staff's trials and headaches. The whole-hearted enthusiasm of this capable staff made the 1946 yearbook the success that it is.

Millsaps' favorite publication has also been affected by the reconversion. Although it has not yet returned to the peace-time standard of an issue each week, the P. & W. has maintained an even higher quality of journalism and up-to-the-minute news. Its feature articles, with the capable guidance of Roberta Stewart, have received the attention and enthusiasm of the students even as much as does the famous "Finger of Scorn." Highlights of the year's editions were the Veterans', edited by Greg Holmes, the Freshmen's, and the April Fools' ("The Burple and Gripe"). Editorials reached a new high in frankness and in bringing to light conditions of the campus that needed reforming. For the first time since pre-war days, the business staff not only financed the P. & W., but also made a slight and well-deserved profit. And so the Bobashela points a "congratulatory finger" at such a successful organization!

BUSINESS MANAGER

Billy Moore in his second year as Business Manager has been even more efficient than in his first. With his characteristic nonchalance he has made the P&W a debtee instead of a debtor.

Under the splendid leadership of Mrs. Roberts, our musical prodigies have reorganized into an enlightened group. They comprise an essential part of campus life. (Imagine chapel without Mary Nell and Bob for accompanists; imagine the auditorium between classes sans Glen's "modernized" classic; imagine Mill-saps without such sweet voices as Virginia's and Flora's!) Their heartfelt enthusiasm runs from the great masters to boogie-woogie.

The MILLSAPS

Our Glee Club was among the first to benefit from the return of so many ex-GI's; and the rest of us pricked up our ears with delight at the results we heard drifting from the auditorium where "Pop" King practiced the blending of mellow, deep male voices with those of our delicate sopranos, altos, and tenors. The real performance came in December, however, when the Singers gave a concert of Christmas music, sending us off for the holidays "in the mood." Then, for seemingly endless days, tryouts were held for the selection of the very best voices. Those chosen were the lucky songbirds pictured, and they ushered in the first peace-time spring by journeying to Mississippi's farthest corners, earning their much-envied vacation from a whole week's classes by singing the most beautiful hymns in Pop's collection. No wonder Pop is even more the campus favorite in 1946 than in any other year! This miracle man not only raises our appreciation of his art, but he performs such impossible feats as chartering buses for tours and making his chapel programs last till after the bell rings, thus detaining us from that test next period as we listen to his sweet music. When the Singers got back from their tour they hardly had time to get their breath before the annual Easter concert, given jointly with Central High School. Next came a whirl of banquets at which they entertained distinguished guests, until finally they themselves were feted with a sumptuous banquet. They have made big steps this year, keeping in stride with our reconversion. Millsaps is pleased!

We believe Millsaps campus to be the answer to the current attacks being made on the Greek letter organizations. Here we have four sororities, four fraternities and two independent organizations which work together for the good of Millsaps and of the Greek world.

Intramurals are sponsored by the fraternities and sororities in a spirit of friendly competition. Campaigns (financial and political) are carried on through the social organizations. Social functions given by men's and women's pan-hellenic are something new this year, but it looks as though they are here to stay. Then here's to the Greeks!

When sorores co-operate as unitedly as this group does, success is bound to result. After living through a terrific rush season, our Women's Pan-Hellenic made further improvements in campus life by sponsoring, with the Men's Pan-Hellenic, some very delightful social functions for all the students. Their greatest step forward was getting the permission of the Board of Trustees to build sorority lodges. Besides giving the girls a definite hope of having real campus homes, the combined efforts of the sororities brought them into closer harmony and resulted in a Pan-Hellenic luncheon that will become an annual affair for sorority girls.

Beta Sigs have really accomplished big things this year. Their dates have been entertained at "Club Cockatoo" and "Beta Ranch." Herring and Williams made Who's Who, while Lloyd headed many campus organizations. Armstrong copped the ping-pong championship, and Fritz's bright colors added campus color. Stanley became Stewart, and Braun graduated to become a stewardess for Delto Air Lines. Keary "got pinned" in December, then Ely took over the president's chair in January. Lompton and Williams held class offices. Williams was also selected a campus beauty. Medlin's music captured many hearts, while Campbell's Southern manner and Harmer's sweetness won them many admirers.

True to that motto of a finger in every pie, the KD's had a bang-up year full of activity. The boys were entertained and "buzzed" at a snazzy Varga Girl dinner dance. Ammons walked off with the title of Most Beautiful, while Barnes, Watkins, Hughes and Melvin shared the spotlight as beauties. Hughes went from one extreme to the other by being a beauty as well as the most repulsive on Freshman Day, which gave her the crown as Freshman Queen. Spitchley proved she had made up her mind and pinned Sanderson to her name. Melvin and Gussio made Alpha Psi Omega after sharing a lead in "Arsenic and Old Lace." Barnes and Watkins followed Gerrard's example and became class officers. Six KD's joined the ranks of KDE, and ten made the Majorette Club. Pendergraft got gray-haired as editor of Babashela. But the greatest epoch was actually getting the record-player back from the repair shop.

These sons of the South have been on the Millsaps Campus since 1893. Time, weather, women, and wars have done little to change the wearing of the Crimson Rose, the playing of billiards in the "Game Room," or the amount of B.M.O.C. Dynamically led by diminutive Hovious, who is languidly supervised by lanky Jordan, who is watched over by "Face" Williams, this group of trustworthy and likable men have emerged from the wars with the blood of Robert E. Lee, spiritual founder, still flowing in their somewhat hardened arteries. With "Brain" Bishop to keep the teachers happy and "Devil May-Care" Jordan to keep the women happy, these Southern aristocrats face the future with confidence.

Faced with the danger of the entire chapter's going into the armed forces, Alpha Upsilon of Kappa Sigma has remained active throughout the war. With many of its old members returning, Sig is well on the way to its pre-war status. This means that those famous "Sig Barn Dances" are not too far away. As an added attraction Sig presents "How to Be a True Gentleman of the South in Three Easy Frot Meetings" by Clay Alexander, their "No. 1" man.

With many returning veterans coming back to take over the places left by the departing sailors, the year 1945-46 stands out as a unique chapter in the history of Theta Eta Zeta. Men like the Shanks brothers, Dan Wright, Harry Frye and Joe Wiggins—just to mention a few of the old line—means strength in any organization. And where else could you find "characters" like Sam Schiek, "Personality" Powers, "Wally" Turner, Ed Carrell, and "Deadly" Dickerson? As in other years, the Lambda Chi's boast powerful intramural teams. Politically they have Student Body, senior class and Pan-Hellenic Council presidencies stacked on one man, Wiggins. You will find these fellows in almost every activity from O.D.K. to ping-pong.

Maintaining the fast pace it set with its high standards years ago, Alpha Iota led the social and scholastic parade at Millsaps during the past year. The Naval unit sang its swan song in October and with it went many outstanding Pikes, leaving the chapter with only nine active civilians to carry on for Alpha Iota. The fact that the chapter led the parade with pledges in February is a glowing tribute to these nine men.

January sixteenth will go down in history as a memorable date for Alpha Iota and also Millsaps. It was then that the chapter and Millsaps combined to honor Major Lewis Wilson, former Millsaps student, member of Pi Kappa Alpha and holder of the Congressional Medal of Honor.

Campus honors went to Charlie Allen, vice-president of the student body, and Major Millsaps; Sam Barefield, president of ODK; Craig Castle, president of the Christian Council; Pat Clendinning, president of the Sophomore Class; and Billy Moore, business manager of the Purple and White and Millsaps Players.

The ancient Vikings had nothing on the modern Millsaps variety! This organization for independent girls is one of the most amazing things on the campus. The Vikings boast of beauties like Hazel and Myra, also Miss Millsaps; Who's Who members like Corroll, Merthel, Myra and Nellie; personalities like Corroll (P. and W. editor) and Rosie (Secretary-Treasurer of the Student Body); athletes like "Mac," Brewer, Reed and Calhoun; and a sponsor like Dean Riecken, himself. These Vikings have a high representation in all the honoraries, are formidable opponents in any sport, and give the most original parties ever heard of. Remember the Sadie Hawkins shindig that turned into a grape-eating contest (after the men were safely captured, of course)? And, boy, that apple cider! Latest Viking acquisition is a real house of their own. Didn't we say they are amazing?

THE VIKINGS

With no football team and a basketball squad that had inadequate financial support, Millsaps still made an amazing record for itself in the athletic field. Victors only twice throughout the basketball season, the team still won the wholehearted enthusiasm of all who saw them fight. The determination of faculty and students to give our boys the type training such spirit and courage deserves has resulted in a complete overhaul of the Men's Physical Education Department. Next year the Majors look forward to a truly successful season—but no team could win our hearts more than the 1946 one did!

ATHLETICS

Although our scores were at a constantly low level, our boys did their best with their critical shortage of manpower and equipment. Throughout the basketball season they played "fair and square" consistently, in spite of heavy opposition.

Take just one peep at this picture and you know that the score at the half of the Mississippi College game here was 19-7 in favor of the Choctaws. Really a pathetic-looking crew, and Coach Burns looks as though he will throw in the towel. The three dejected-looking cagers you see are Sam Sanders, Howard Blank and Si Allen, Coach Arthur Burns weeping in the door. The number 14 basketball shoe which so obviously comes into view belongs to Big Ragland.

at MILLSAPS

Charlie "Si" Allen and Sam Sanders hold a little practice session of their own while Coach Arthur Burns gives the cagers a 10-minute break. Si is demonstrating to Sam how to get set for a shot and then wheel away from the guard and under the basket for a crip. This worked the first time but here Sam seems to be getting set for anything.

Cheerleaders Bill Correll, Rose Watkins and Bob Kochtitzky lead a raucous war-whoop for the Majors.

The man who got the ball "ralling" for the Majors when they started an offensive drive to the opponents' basket was David McIntash. One of the season's high scorers, Dave was fast on the planks and did more than his share of the defensive chores. Mac is a former McComb high school athlete.

A T H

Bill Ates is going high into the air over Buie gym floor to knock down one of Haward Blank's shots at the basket. Both Ates and Blank were competent subs and did a bang-up job of relieving tired Majors when the going got tough.

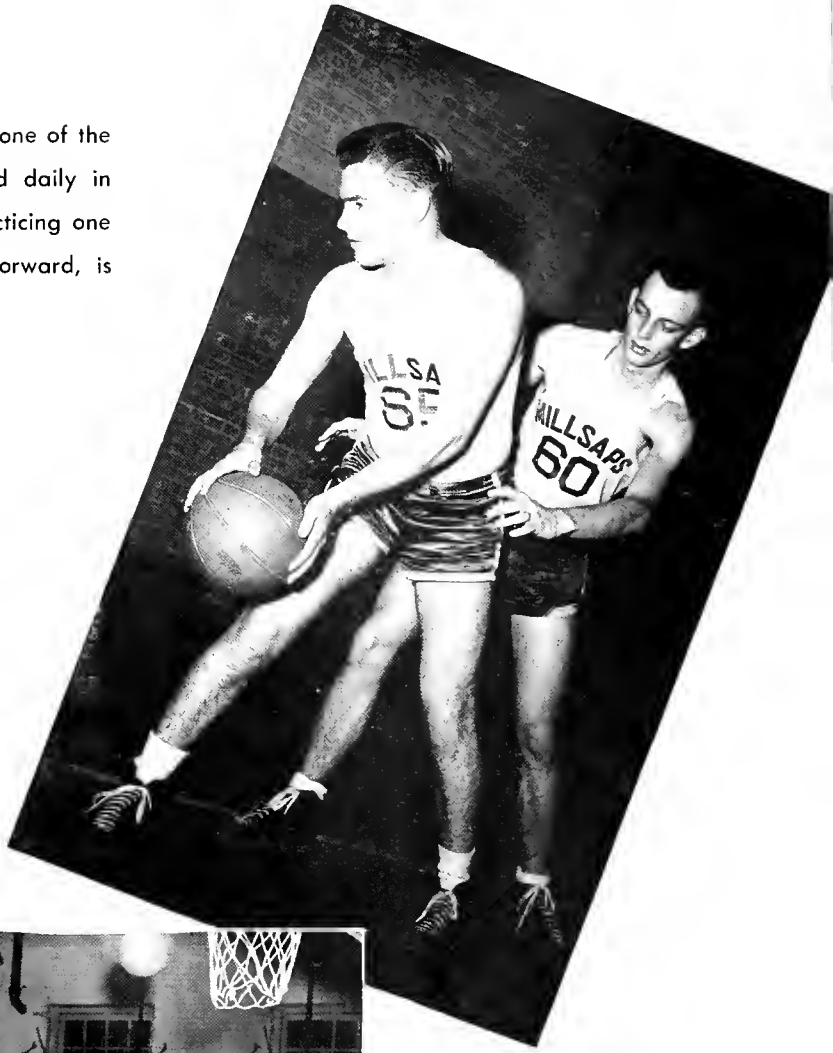

Cheerleaders and their mascot-of-the-evening pause to catch their breath at the half.

Here are a couple of the Majors going through one of the hard afternoon grinds which Coach Burns held daily in Buie gym. Glen Teasley, varsity forward, is practicing one of his favorite feints. Gene Nettles, another forward, is studying the Teasley technique.

This sort of training gave the team the sorely needed confidence they must have had to have gone through a season competing against teams which were better equipped with experience and the facilities for turning out smooth-running organizations—yet these Majors had such undaunted spirit that we are proud to call them our own.

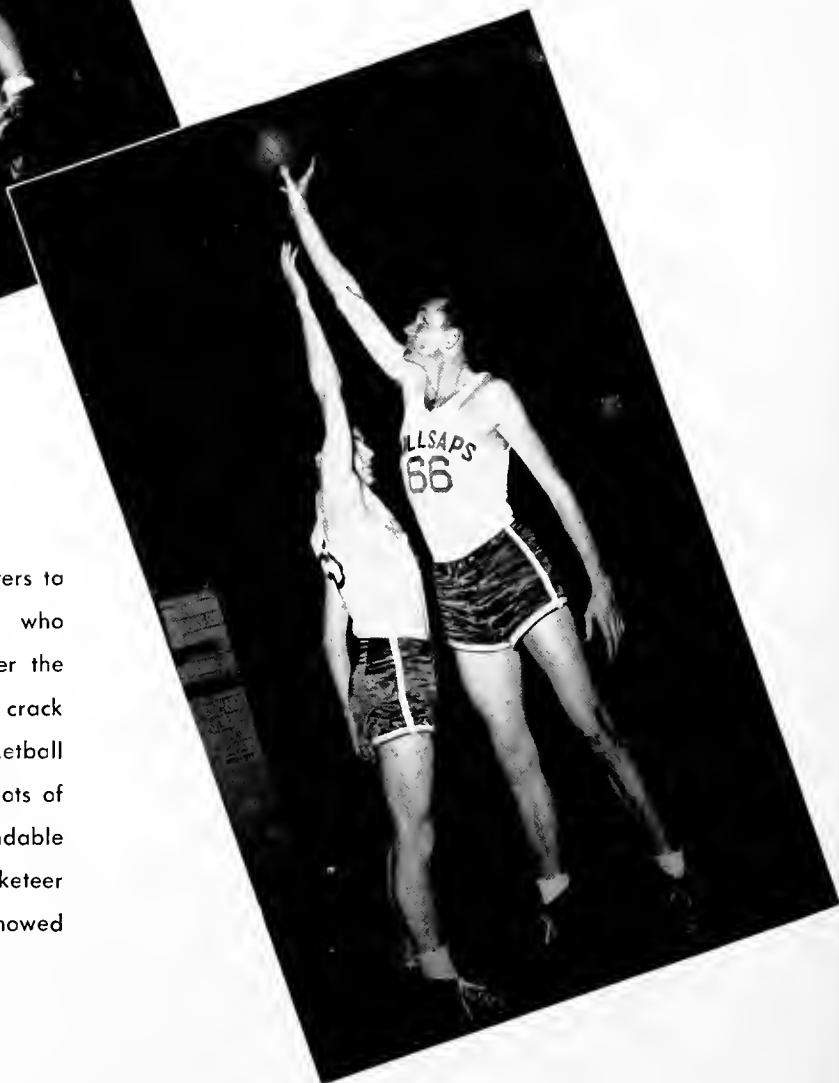

Big Rags is having to leave the floor in a hurry to get the tip-off from this Choctaw. This is a scene in Buie gym while the visitors from Miss. College were enjoying a slight lead.

A T H

This Choctaw can really get off the floor. Randall Martin has just turned loose with one of his one-handed shots and this diminutive Choctaw goes into the air to see what can be done about blocking the shot. He missed the ball but gave Martin a smack in the palm of his hand.

Wallace "Senator" Cook is giving a few pointers to his teammate, Randall Martin. The Senator, who was totally inexperienced before getting under the wing of Coach Arthur Burns, developed into a crack cager before the curtain went down on the basketball season. With plenty of height and possessing lots of team spirit, Cook was one of the most dependable men on the Majors squad. Martin, the other basketeer pictured here with Cook, was a freshman who showed plenty of promise.

LETICS

The 1945-46 Majors. Though the team had the poorest record on paper of any Millsaps team in the decade, it was the best team in the history of the school, judging from a sportsman's standpoint. Non-subsidized and playing just for the fun, the '45-'46 edition was commended everywhere it performed for its clean play and outstanding sportsmanship. This year's series between Millsaps and Miss. College was the cleanest series ever played between the two schools. The Majors were coached by a Jacksonian, Arthur Burns, a well-known South Mississippi basketball official. Reading from left to right: (Bottom row) Carl Fax, Howard Blank, Gene Nettles, Charlie "Si" Allen and David McIntash; (back row) Bill Ates, Sam Sanders, Wallace Coak, Evans Ragland, Glen Teasley and Randall Martin.

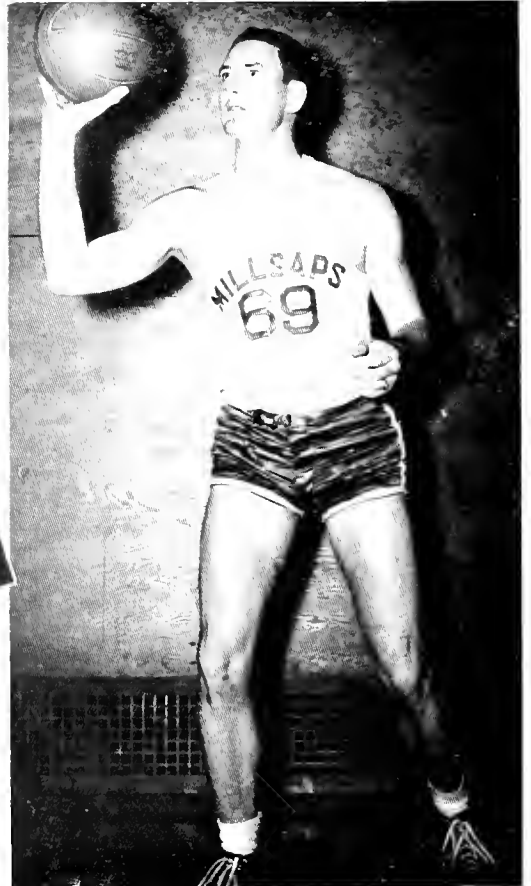

Good attendance further proves "that Millsaps spirit."

A T H

The ace of the hardwoods at Millsaps this season was Evans Ragland, towering pivot man, who discarded his GI duds and donned thinclods here to lead the scoring parade for the Majors. "Big Rag" had an average of around 17 points per game for the season, which is plenty good in any kind of competition. Not only was Ragland a good offensive man, but his defensive work was more than commendable. He was an exponent of the one-hand push shot.

This was one of the few moments that Millsaps rooters had a chance to really howl—Big Rags is sending the Majors into the lead with one of his one-hand specials. Ready to take the ball off the backboard, in case it missed, is Stuart Carruth.

Under a blue Mississippi sky our co-eds can relax any warm spring day for a stimulating game of tennis on Millsaps' excellent courts.

Millsaps students are privileged to use Jackson's best golf course.

THE MINOR SPORTS

. . . and Intramurals

Millsaps boasts a health-building schedule annually in minor sports, especially for its co-eds. These physical education students learn archery, softball, tennis, golf, basketball, volleyball, and horseback riding. Intramurals are scheduled by the Majorette Club and the Men's Pan-hellenic. Each sorority, fraternity, and independent group prepares and practices its team for weeks before the intramural season begins and then everyone on the campus seems to eat, sleep, live intramurals. Rewards for the winners are handsome silver trophies on plaques. Good-natured competition of this sort has taught friendship and co-operation to groups which might otherwise have come into conflict.

IN APPRECIATION . . .

Because I knew that the Editor of a yearbook gets all the credit or all the blame for the success or failure of the annual, I have bossed and bullied my staff, the faculty, and my friends until they produced what I thought to be their best in the way of copy, art work, and photography. Now I wish to thank all those who submitted to my rule and who worked so untiringly for the BOBASHELA: the teachers who have made a special effort to have new photographs made of themselves, and who offered timely suggestions; the typists—especially Janice Nicholson and Helene Minyard; those who did important "odd" jobs—Martha Lynn Kenna, Mary Ethel Nay, Roberta Stewart, Carol Hutto, Melda Burdsal, and Gene Pollock; those who took part in planning and producing the Beauty Pageant; my assistant who always heeded my every beck and call (Ned O'Brien); Mr. Hathorn ("U. Z."), who helped me acquire office equipment; Greg Holmes, who trotted all over the place making pretty girls look prettier for snapshots; Cliff Bingham, an "outsider" who took our snaps—and also took much abuse (he even lost a new hat during one of our basketball games!); of course, all the staff who burned the midnight oil writing copy; and, last but not least!—Mr. Street, who supplied us with pencils, cokes, and light bulbs while we slaved away.

I have enjoyed the privilege of being your Editor.

will Endure

Long after war has ceased they will stand as beacons to the American Way . . . to greater achievement in religion, arts, science, research, and industry. The way is not easy. It is narrow. It is sometimes rough. Other paths beckon alluringly, as seeming short cuts. But in mankind's halting progress through the ages many paths have been explored before. If now in uncertainty we change paths we will slow up progress and confuse those whose eyes are on us. Further smoothing of the proved paths we can continue inspire earnest men everywhere to follow the way that already has led one nation so far toward the better and happier life for all.
